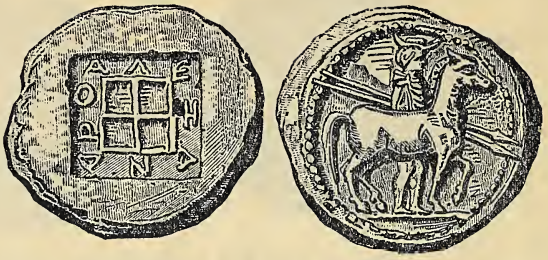
YOUR TRADE IS WANTED.



THE FACT THAT YOU HAVE RECEIVED THIS CATALOGUE indicates that you are interested in the collection of Coins, Stamps, and Curiosities, and also indicates that I have some to sell, and desire to sell them.

If you will look carefully over the pages that follow, you will probably find something that you want, and if the price of the same is reasonable, you will undoubtedly favor me with an order. To have you do so is why I issue this list. I desire to bring right to your notice what I have for sale and at what prices I am selling the same.

I am not going to bore you with a lengthy dissertation about my great stock and immense business, and all that sort of rhetorical stuff. What is the use? If a man were not equipped for business he could not do business, and everybody knows that I have been doing business for fifteen years. I might use up much time and space in telling you of my methods of doing business, and why I have adopted those methods, but to do so would be a waste of words and imply a doubt where none exists. Of course I want your trade. I am not liable to work hard and spread printer's ink for something I do not want.

When you are ready to buy Coins, Stamps, and Curiosities I want you to send your order to me, and I will endeavor to please you in all ways. If you are satisfied, I may look for further orders; if you are not, then you will send somewhere else when next you are purchasing. I do not think you will do this, however.

You need have no doubt in your mind that I can successfully compete with dealers more centrally located. I can buy as cheaply as any one. Cash is what counts. It costs me no more to mail you your purchase than if I lived in an adjoining county. Uncle Sam does the work for the same money. You may have to wait a day or so longer to get your goods, but as they are not perishable by nature they will arrive in just as good order as though bought next door.

I know that I can sell you what you want at lowest prices, allowing reasonable profit for handling. I am not selling out below cost before stock-taking, nor having a semi-annual clearance sale. I am here to stay, and as I said before, I want your trade.

Yours very truly,

W. F. GREANY,

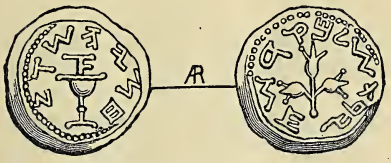
ON COINS TO SAVE

Time, Money, and Unnecessary Correspondence.



OLD COINS. AGE DOES NOT ALWAYS GIVE VALUE TO A COIN. MANY coins, and especially silver ones that were issued in great profusion in the 18th century and circulated in America as current coin, have little or no premium value. Some of the old U. S. Cents—1798, 1802 and 1803—as well as U. S. Half Dollars between the years 1816 to 1835, in ordinary condition, command little premium.

INFORMATION.—Questions pertaining to coins, etc., etc., answered gratis to the best of my ability; provided, letters of inquiry contain stamps for return postage.

CONDITION.—Coins are classed as to the state of preservation. Proof coins are those made annually for many years past by the mint for collectors, and receive a brilliant surface by burnishing. Uncirculated coins are those which have the original mint lustre, owing to not being used, and are as sharp as when coined. Fine coins have the hair, eyes and letters bold and sharp, and not worn off or corroded. Good coins are those in which the hair and eyes show up well, the date and letters being perfectly plain. What would be considered fine for a cent, however, would only be good in a gold coin Fair coins have the dates indicated, but hair and letters somewhat worn. Poor coins are those which have the date indistinct or the hair and letters badly worn or the surface badly corroded or have been pierced or battered.

FINE AND PERFECT U. S. CENTS.

There are now and then to be found some cents of the early dates which have never been circulated since the time they were coined. These are often very valuable. For instance: for a cent of 1799 in good condition I pay $5.00; for one of same date in fine condition I would pay from $10.00 to $25.00, while for a perfect cent of that year, which is as bright and sharp as when coined, I will pay One Hundred Dollars.

CLEANING.—Do not attempt to clean fine coins; they should be handled only on the edge, and kept wrapped carefully in chamois skin, or soft tissue paper, or laid on veivet. Gold and Silver coins may be rinsed, not washed, in hot water and soap. Copper coins should be placed in sweet oil only to remove grease and dirt; acids and scouring will ruin any coin of value.

Obverse means the head or face of the coin or the side having the principal device.

Reverse means the tail, or less important side.

Legend means the reading on the coin.

Flowing Hair denotes the hair flowing loosely at the back of the head.

Liberty Cap denotes a bust supporting a pole on which is mounted a cap of Liberty.

Fillet Head denotes the hair tied in a knot at the back of the head.

Dies—A thick die usually has lettering on the edge of the coin, a thin die has none.

First Regular Coinage denotes the first year a coin was issued for circulation.

Patterns are coins struck off, but not put into circulation.

Mint Marks consist of small letters on the coin—O for New Orleans, D for Dahlonega, C C for Carson City, S for San Francisco, while those coined at the Philadelphia mint have none.

Arrows and Rays. In the early part of the year 1853, arrow points were added at each side of the date, and rays around the eagle.

Milled Edge. In the early part of 1836 the half dollars were coined with lettered edge, and in the latter part with milled or ribbed edge, as they are to-day.

READ CAREFULLY

BEFORE ORDERING.

IN A BUSINESS SUCH AS THE COIN, STAMP, AND CURIOSITY, WHERE THE stock principally consists of old and scarce goods, it is practically impossible and almost vain to attempt to keep in stock at all times such articles as are listed for sale. To avoid delay in filling orders I would request, therefore, all customers to send in addition to their order list, a substitute list from which goods are to be selected in case those first desired are not on hand.

No matter how often you write, always give your name, postoffice, county and State plainly and in full.

HOW TO REMIT.

All remittances for orders amounting to $1.00 or over may be sent at my expense and risk, provided same are forwarded by any of the following methods. Deduct expense of forwarding from amount of the order: 1st—By Postoffice Money Order, by Express Money Order, or by Bank Draft. 2nd—By Registered Letter. Small sums, less than one dollar, may be sent by Postal Note or by U. S. Stamps of any denomination. Never send coin of any kind in a letter, as it is neither safe nor advisable. Foreign customers should remit by International Money Orders or Bank Drafts on New York or London.

POSTAGE.—All purchases to the amount of 25 cts. or over will be forwarded by me, postage paid. All orders under 25 cts. must be accompanied by return postage.

TO FOREIGN CORRESPONDENTS.

In your several countries you have excellent opportunities to secure many coins and stamps, which, while frequently plentiful in your neighborhood may nevertheless be in demand in the United States. I would be pleased to ascertain as to coins what you can especially obtain, and I will make you offers for the same. I would kindly request a trial consignment of stamps such as you may have to exchange, but would suggest that no small lots are desired unless of the scarcer varieties, as time is too precious and postage too high to trade for common stamps in small quantities.

I Want, as soon as possible, to receive new issues, especially Provisional Stamps, or those likely to be in use but a short time, and on receipt of same will forward cash.

Send me ten dollars worth of every new stamp issued by your Post Office Department—especially provisionals.

MISSOURI DEFENSE BONDS.

NO FINANCIAL SCHEME EVER HAD A MORE INFIRM BASIS, NOR WAS SO short lived as that which gave forth what are known as the Missouri Defense Bonds. The act under which they were issued was one of the few passed by what is known as C. F. Jackson's Senate.

Pursuant to a proclamation issued on September 26, 1861, by Claiborne F. Jackson, then Governor of the State of Missouri, the Senate convened at Neosho, Newton County, Missouri, on the 21st day of October, 1861.

The proclamation stated that a state of war existed between Missouri and the Federal Government, and that the purpose of convening the General Assembly was to give the representatives of the people of Missouri an opportunity of determining whether or not they desired to dissolve the constitutional bond which bound them to the Government of the United States.

The session was a short one. Despite the wishes of the Governor and those legislators who desired to see the name of Missouri on the Confederate roll, the strong Union sentiment of the people saved the State to the Union cause.

The Act referred to was entitled "An act to provide for the defense of the State of Missouri," and its first section read as follows: "The sum of ten millions of dollars is hereby appropriated out of any money in the treasury, or which may hereafter be paid into the treasury, for the purpose of repelling invasion and sustaining the state in her efforts to maintain her sovereignty."

Very few of the bonds were put in circulation, and these few had scarcely any value as an investment.

I will furnish these mementoes, while in stock, at the following low figures:

$ 1.00, rural scene, price	06
3.00, female with cornucopia	08
4.00, steamboat scene on Mississippi	06
4.50, group of females, agriculture, commerce	10
50.00, plantation scene	10
100.00, head of Jeff. Davis	15
6 varieties for only 50 cents.	55

In addition to the above I can offer collectors the following rare notes of Missouri—all in crisp condition:

5.00, white paper	15
5.00, Blue paper	20
3 Bills for 45 cents.	50

The abeve 6 bonds and 3 bills for $1.00. In addition, will put in every order an additional bill of some broken bank.

Wanted—$20.00 Missouri Bonds, for Cash.

I WANT TO BUY

All kinds of Confederate Bonds and notes whether of general or State issue; also Confederate Stamps, especially locals.

It will pay my Southern patrons to look up the old correspondence of their families, as they may likely find many valuable United States and Confederate Stamps.

Do not remove stamps from envelopes but send entire.

Archæology.

TO THE ANTIQUARIAN, THERE ARE FEW SUBJECTS THAT PRESENT SUCH opportunities for research as the study of the early American races, from the stone implements to be found scattered throughout the length and breadth of the United States, and which are eloquent testimonials of the intelligence of the aborigines of this continent.

The handiwork displayed in the beautifully serrated arrow and spear points, the queer ornaments and fantastically shaped pipes, speak volumes for the ingenuity of these early residents of the forest, particularly when we consider the rude implements with which they were fashioned from the rough stone.

The impetus given to the study of these relics by the organization of Archæological Societies and the publication of Archæological magazines, has resulted in the formation of thousands of collections, and has greatly increased the demand for the best and rarest specimens. The tyro and the connoisseur will find my assortment quite extensive and my prices as reasonable as the condition and scarcity of the specimens will admit. I deliver free of charge all goods mentioned herein, either by post or by express, as will be expedient. This fact is stated for the benefit of those collectors who have purchased from dealers at what they deemed very cheap prices, but have found themselves cinched by having to pay exorbitant charges to conscienceless express companies when the goods arrived at their destination. In examining quotations, my patrons will please bear this in mind, as expressage is quite an item on bulky and weighty articles.

VARIOUS FORMS OF INDIAN RELICS.

You will observe by the accompanying illustration the different varieties of flints. They ar numbered to correspond with descriptions.

No. 1 is a very fine drill, used for perforating leather, rocks, etc. I can furnish them for 25c., 50c., 75c., $1.00, $1.50.

No. 2 is a triangular war point, and it is presumed that when a person was shot, he would endeavor to remove the shaft, to which the point would only be lightly attached; when the shaft was removed it left the point in, which would soon cause death to the victim. Price, 20c.

No 3 is a broad and deep notched arrow head, very fine, and not found in large quantities. Price, 30c to 50c.

No. 4 is a deep notched rotary arrow point. It is so made that when shot, it revolves in its flight. Price, 40c. to $1.50.

No. 5 is one of the common Indian arrow points, as found all over the country. Price, 15c. each; per dozen, fine, $100; fair, 60c.

No. 6 is a fine notched scraper. Scrapers are not usually notched, and the notched scrapers are rare and worth 40 to 50c; unnotched 30c.

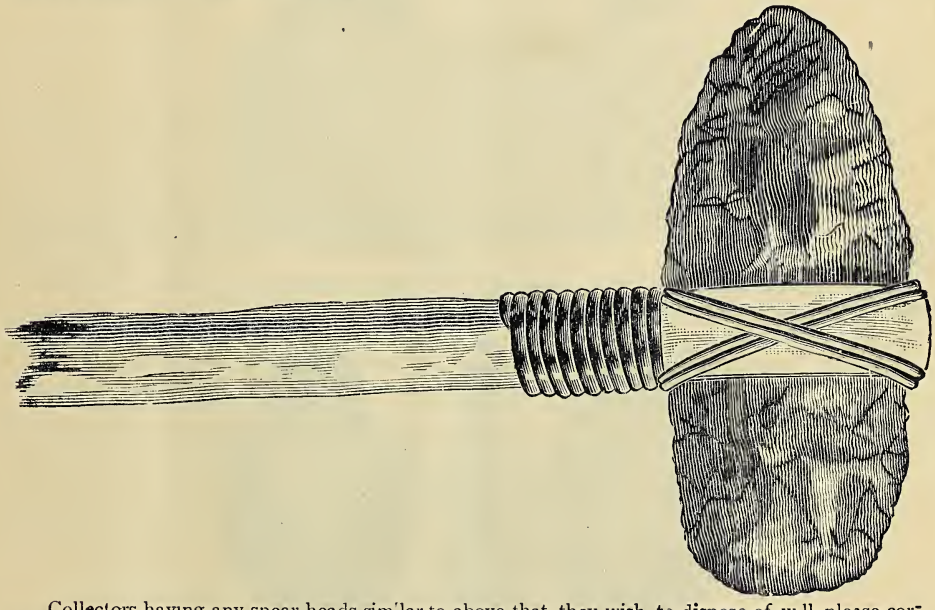
No. 7 is a very rare point. It is different from other arrow points, by having a long drilled-shaped point. They are seldom met with. Price, $1.00.

No. 8 is one of the top notched implements, which sell for 25 to 50c.

No. 9 is a serrated point. It will be observed that the edges have points, and they are also slightly rotary, and when shot, must produce a painful, tearing wound. Price, 35c. to $1.00.

Short, thick flints were used to shoot game. I can sell them for 5c. to 10c. each.

I can furnish spear heads in nearly all the shapes described in relation to arrow points, and in length running from 2 or 3 inches to 6 or 7 and upwards. I will gladly send drawings of spear heads in stock to collectors on application. I would request you to apply for drawings, as in this way you will at once see exactly what the specimens are like. Below I give an illustration of a large leaf-shaped spear head, mounted on a war club. This will give a good idea of how these heads were used. Price, unmounted, 75c.



Collectors having any spear heads similar to above that they wish to dispose of will please correspond with me. Liberal prices paid.

OREGON BIRD ARROW POINTS.

The history of the tribes which have left these beautiful relics of their workmanship has of late years attracted the attention of the student and the learned. The very large variety of the substances from which they were made, the numerous designs in which they appear, the extreme accuracy with which they were wrought, and the fact that they are too diminutive for guiding an arrow of ordinary size and length have suggested to arocæological minds many questions of interest.

What were the arrow heads made for? By what tribe of Indians were they made? From whence came the materials out of which many of the precious and semi-precious points were worked? With what tools could such excellent results be achieved by the primitive workman? Were these Indians, whose handiwork we admire as far superior to that of the modern tribes, of Asiatic origin, and did they come in successive migrations from the north, and finally cover the entire coast?

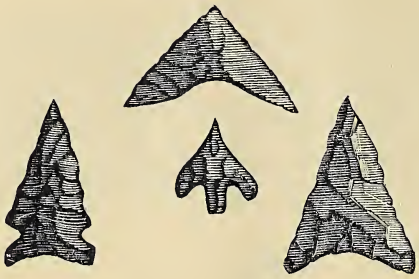
The answers to these questions are partly conjective.

Those who have given these particular relics the closest study have concluded that many of the curious shapes they assume arise from an attempt to represent birds, fishes and beasts. Shapes which at first were thought to have been seemingly crude are now believed to be imitations of objects surrounding these pioneer artisans.

Representations of leaves, owls, seals, lizards and heads of the doe and bison are among the many that are found to have been successfully attempted.

Arrow heads have always been made by semi-civilized aboriginal races and many barbarous races have learned the art, but their productions were chiefly of flint, bone or iron. It remained for the early inhabitants of the Northern Coast to make them of obsidian, jaspar, chalcedony, agate, cornelion, onyx, glass and other beautiful and uncommon materials.

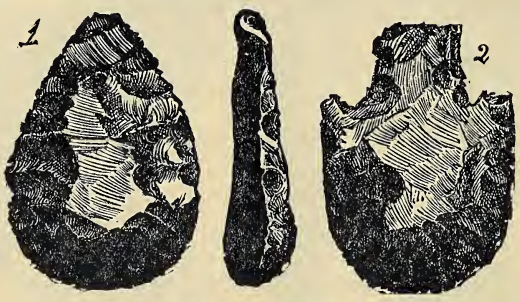
I have these points in nearly all varieties of lines, shades and materials, at the following reasonable prices.



Seconds, perfect points, each 15c.; per dozen $1.50.
Firsts, each, 25c.; per dozen, $2.50.
Selects, finely formed beauties, $3.75 per dozen.
Unique specimens from 50c. to $1 00 each.
I have a few points from Oregon in dull colors at 10c. each.
Specimens not quite perfect, 5c.

The above points, neatly mounted on gold scarf pin and bound with gold wire for $3.00. They also make handsome earrings. A pair well matched and mounted on gold screws, and bound with gold wire, $6.00.

Have a limited quantity of Oregon points similar in shape to the ordinary Indian point at 10c. each in common material; in fine material, 15c.



SCRAPERS.

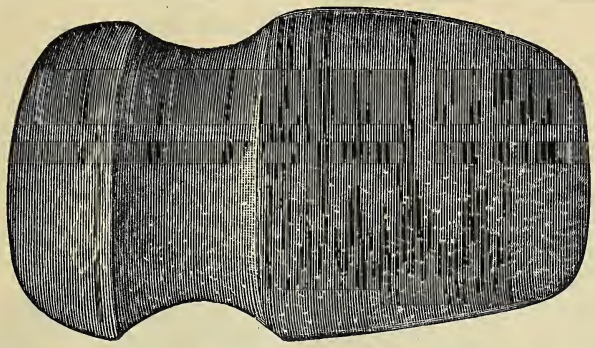
Scrapers are implements or tools no doubt used in the manufacture of Slate and Stone Pipes and Ornamental Pieces, etc., etc. No. 1 is the most common form not intended to be used with a handle. The middle piece is a side view of No. 1. The No. 2 scraper is much scarcer, and was intended for mounting in a hollow bone or stag horn handle.

There is another form much scarcer than the above, which resembles No. 2, but has a notched butt, and more extended front; such were fastened to handles with strings of sinew. I send post paid at the following prices:

No. 1, each.....15 to 25 cents. No. 2, each.... .25, 50, to 75 cents.

Can offer for a short time, a small lot of Oregon Scrapers at 25c. to 50c. each, depending on the make and material. Selections of small relics can be sent on approval for inspection.

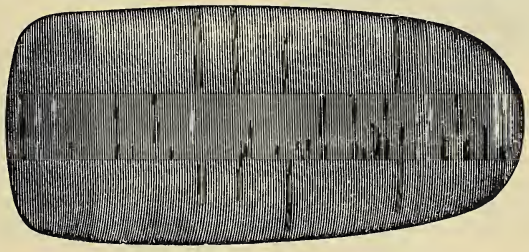
I have many flint knives, and can furnish a great variety. Price, 50c. to $2.00.



The illustration above is that of a grooved axe, the groove being entirely around the axe. Specimens like above are rare, and are worth, for very fine pieces, $3.00. Very good to fair specimens from $1.00 to $2.50. The illustration above is reduced in size. Axes with groove partially around are common, and of them I have an extensive variety for $1.00 and upwards.

CELTS

Present a large variety of sizes and forms. They have a well defined cutting edge, and were used for making canoes, skinning deers, and for other purposes around the Indian wigwam. Price, for fair specimens, 35c., 50c. Large, 50c to 75c. Unusually large, 75c. to $1.00.

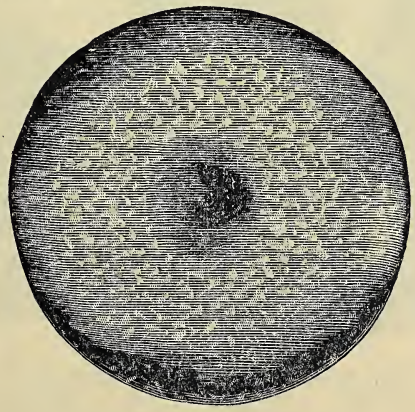


Price, 75 cts.

ORNAMENTS

Present such a variety of shape and manufacture, that an illustration cannot well be given. Nearly all ornaments are made of slate. I have a large variety, many with perforations. Descriptions and drawings will be sent to correspondents who are known to be interested in relics. Ornaments are scarce, and find quick sale at $1 50 to $3.00 each.

I particularly am in want of fine slate ornaments, and collectors wishing to dispose of any can get good prices in cash or exchange from me.

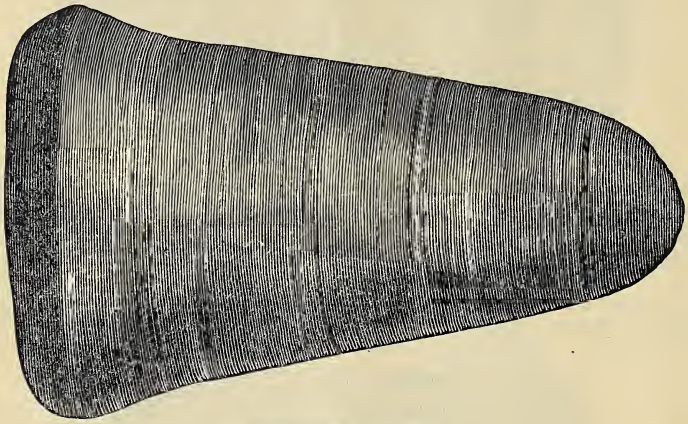


Price, $1.00.

The above cut represents a hammer stone. They are often depressed on both sides by constant hammering. Fair specimens, 75 cents.

HEMATITE IMPLEMENTS.

Hematites are implements made of iron ore. The Indian found that they were much better than stone implements by reason of their hardness and sharper edges. I can offer hematites in celts, heads to war clubs, plumbstones, etc. Prices range from 15c to $2.00, and higher for some unusually fine or rare objects. I can offer at the present time a fine assortment and a wide range of prices, better than I have had an opportunity to offer before.

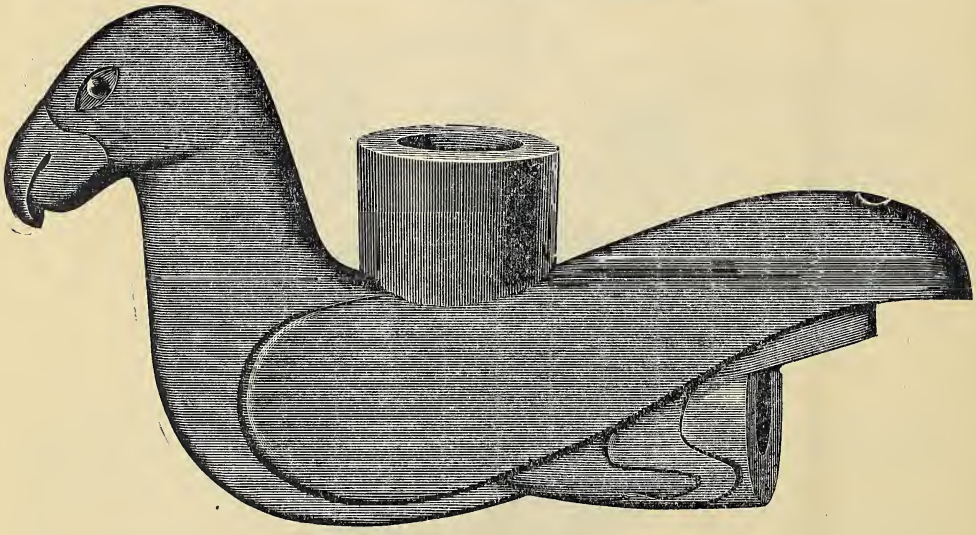


PESTLES, $2.00.

I have many pestles of all kinds in price from 50 cents to $3.00, according to sizes and condition. Pestles were used to grind corn. I also have a few mortars, prices of which will be given on application.

PIPES, POTTERY.

I have a variety of pipes, some of beautiful workmanship, prices ranging from $5.00 to $20.00. Advanced collectors will be sent full descriptions and prices of pipes on application.



Have also a few modern Indian stone pipes of nice workmanship, at $3.00 each.

Pottery is very rare and valuable. There are few collectors or dealers who have any to offer. I have been fortunate in securing an extra fine lot from mounds opened during the year in Missouri and Arkansas. Prices range from $3 to $10. Drawings sent on application to collectors who are known to me as buyers.

Oval stones from old ruins held inside pottery while in process of manufacture, $1.25.

While most collectors will not be able to secure perfect specimens of pottery on account of their rarity and high price, they can at least all secure fragments which will give a good idea of their structure and composition. I can supply good sized fragments neatly mounted on card board, at the following prices:

Two fragments sacred pottery from mounds	20
Two fragments painted, pre-historic	25
Two fragments ancient vermillion ware	20
Two fragments genuine Pimo Arizona pottery	20

These fragments are fine, large specimens, each from 1½ to 2 inches in diameter, and are guaranteed to please the purchaser.

Net Sinkers in variety from 30 to 50 cents each.

In order to meet the growing demand for Indian implements, I have concluded to offer them by a series of packets. The packages are placed at a figure much less than the regular rates. Wide awake collectors can readily sell them to their fellow collectors at an advance:

UNITED STATES REVENUES.

Of late years many collectors in the United States have confined themselves exclusively to the collection of United States stamps as they deemed that the labor and outlay in collecting the issues of all the countries of the world would be too great and likely the results would be too unsatisfactory.

Many, in addition to collecting the postage issues have taken up the revenue issues and for some time past the demand has been gradually and steadily increasing.

The effects of this demand can readily be seen in the advanced prices that many specimens have lately been commanding and in the earnest competition among purchasers at recent sales.

It is unnecessary to dilate at any length on the beauties of these revenue stamps or on the financial condition of the country which prompted their use.

From a business standpoint I believe no particular line of stamps promises better returns for money invested than the United States Revenues. There are many varieties catalogued at a few cents that are very difficult to procure and which when attention is called to their scarcity must be greatly advanced in price.

The supply is limited, the demand is increasing and according to the well-known rule of political economy the prices must rise. For those who are about to commence or have lately commenced the collecting of U. S. Revenues, I have put up special packets and can assure prospective purchasers that they contain very good value for the money.

Packet No. 1 contains 10 varieties of match stamps on various paper.....$ 25
Packet No. 2 contains 20 varieties of match stamps..... 55
Packet No. 3 contains 60 varieties of match including many on old and pink paper..... 2 00
Packet No. 4 contains 10 varieties of medicine stamps; price..... 20
Packet No. 5 contains 20 varieties of medicine stamps; price..... 50
Packet No. 6 contains 50 varieties of medicine stamps; price..... 2 00
Packet No. 7 contains 10 varieties of playing card stamps; price..... 40

MATCH WRAPPERS ALSO IN STOCK.

U. S. ENVELOPES.

I have quite a large and varied stock of entire Envelopes, including many of the rarer issues, and to collectors desiring particular specimens I will be pleased to quote prices. When writing, it will be sufficient to give numbers according to any of the recognized catalogues on U. S. envelopes.

APPROVAL SHEETS.

The advanced collectors and agents who select or sell from approval sheets will find that I can satisfy their wants in many lines at most moderate prices. Selections will be sent on approval to persons applying for same, and who give first-class business references or make cash deposit.

NUMISMATIC PUBLICATIONS.

PREMIUMS.

In order to still further increase my business, and also as a partial return for the many favors I have received at the hands of collectors, I have concluded to give away a number of premiums.

With your first $1.00 order I will give you, free, a Japan tempo, or some other Japan coin, if you wish.

With your first $2.50 order I will give you a California gold charm, ¼ size, round or octagonal, or two petrifications; or, if it is a stamp order, some provisional stamp.

With your first $5.00 order I will give you a California gold charm, half-dollar size, round or octagonal, or three Missouri bonds, or Japan ¼ bu. in silver, or other goods of my own selection to equal value.

With your first $10.00 order I will give you, a set of Missouri Defense Bonds, or ten old bank notes.

With every additional order, from $5.00 upwards, extra goods amounting to at least 10 per ct. of order will be sent free. As the prices quoted in this catalogue are very low, collectors purchasing in $5.00 amounts can readily dispose of their purchases to fellow-collectors at a large advance.

FOREIGN GOLD AND SILVER COINS, MEDALS, Etc.

In addition to the few coins listed in this catalogue, I can furnish an extensive variety of gold and silver coins, and medals of nearly every age and country. To advanced collectors I would be pleased to send rare selections on approval. First-class references or a cash deposit is required.

ELECTROTYPES.

The following were purchased from a New York dealer who had retired from the coin business, and have been selling right along at prices ranging from 25 cents to 75 cents a piece. They are in good order, and as a rule have been taken from fine and uncirculated originals. These are offered at the uniform price of 20 cents each, in order to close them out, and collectors will not have another opportunity of procuring them. Many are copies of coins and medals the originals of which are almost unobtainable by the ordinary collector. To every one purchasing one dollar's worth, I will give a specimen free:

THE REIGN OF TERROR.

Of the many changes of government which have been made by the French people—and no people have been more prolific than they in experiments of that kind—there was none brought on by a revolution which slumbered so long, to finally break forth with such great fury as that which at the close of the last century took France from the list of kingdoms and placed her, temporarily, among the republics.

The dissatisfaction at the deranged state of finances, and the desire of imitating the American Colonies, which had just completed their successful struggle for independence, prompted the overthrow of one of the most ancient and powerful monarchies in Europe.

Confusion and anarchy were the order of the day. A dark veil of terror and death covered all France.

Guillotines were erected and did their deadly work in almost every populous city, from the capital to the boundaries, and from 1792 to 1794 blood continued to flow in almost every part of this unhappy country.

One of the measures attempted by the Assembly of the States-general for improving the finances of the new republic, was the issuance of the historical paper money commonly known as "assignats," the value of which as relics will be appreciated by every collector.

I having received, after much negotiation with a Bordeaux antiquary, a valuable assortment of these goods, I can now offer varieties at the prices quoted.

New York dealers ask for photographs of these bills about the same price I furnish original specimens for.

ANCIENT COINS.

Every collector of antiquities, and almost every collector of coins, though he confine his collection to special countries, takes an interest in ancient coins. As a subject for pleasant study and research, there is no field that affords better opportunities to the numismatic student than the investigation of the coins of the Greeks and Romans. In the coinage of the former may be traced ther religious beliefs, and the rapid improvement from pieces of metal roughly stamped to the most artistic specimens, cannot fail to astonish. In the coinage of the latter may be found the portraits of its Emperors whose names have bl zoned the pages of history, and whose deeds and virtues are frequently recorded on the coins issued during their reigns—so much so, that the coinage of Rome is a gazette of that nat on.

Th se pioneers in the issuance of coins have left specimens of their handiwork that, for beauty of design and perfection of execution, can scarcely be equalled by the artisans of to-day.

In addition to the bronze coins here set forth, I have constantly on hand many varieties of the silver and scarcer bronze coinage, and to parties desiring to purchase I will be pleased to submit prices.

CALIFORNIA GOLD COINS.

With collectors who are interested in the gold coinage of this State, I would be pleased to enter into correspondence. ORIENTAL COINS.

It is impossible in this catalogue to describe the great variety of Chinese and Japanese coins which I have continually in stock.

Varying in weight from a few grains to a pound, embracing in form the round, elliptical, rectangular, razor, key, fork and bird shaped, many with a history going back before the Christian era, there is truly in these coins a fund of knowledge for the numismatist.

Our Oriental neighbors, not satisfied with possessing the most curiously shaped coins in or out of Christendom, have embellished them with representations of animals whose identification would puzzle the most advanced naturalist.

To parties desiring to purchase, I will send prices on application.
